Bills Seeing Action This Week

The bills on the Revenue page are all subject to the cut-off on February 7, the date by which bills have to move out of the fiscal committees of their respective houses of origin. So as of this writing, it is unclear which will see action and which will die. It is also possible that a bill seemingly passed over could get pulled at later time, as “necessary to implement the budget (NTIB)”. That said, because fiscal committees are working over the weekend and on Monday, there is no new action this week.

The House and Senate budget chairs are busy developing their respective proposed budgets, which are likely to be released in the next week or so.

How You Can Be Involved

- During the legislative session we will send Action Alerts in the Legislative Newsletter. Please respond to these, which will direct you to an application to facilitate communicating with your legislators on an important vote in committees or on the chamber floor.
- Local Leagues in Washington have action chairs who coordinate action teams. Some local Leagues have education teams to take action locally. Contact your local League action chair to find out and join.
- You may also express your opinion on legislation with the LWVWA issue chairs. We will take your perspectives under considerations as we determine our support for legislation and prepare testimony. Cynthia Stewart, Growth Management Issue Chair, cstewart@lwvwa.org
